

(Paws→Onboard) How Much is the Southwest Airlines Pet Fee? Everything You Need to Know

Southwest Airlines allows passengers to travel with pets under specific guidelines, and understanding the pet fee structure is important before making a reservation

+(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]

For pets traveling in the cabin, Southwest Airlines typically charges a flat pet fee per carrier per flight, which applies to each way of travel +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. The standard in-cabin pet fee is $125 per one-way flight, meaning travelers flying round-trip should expect to pay the fee twice +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. This fee applies to small cats and dogs that meet size requirements and can comfortably fit in an airline-approved carrier placed under the seat

+(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]

The pet fee is separate from the passenger ticket cost and must be paid at the airport check-in counter on the day of travel +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Southwest Airlines limits the number of pets allowed in the cabin per flight, so travelers are encouraged to reserve pet space as early as possible +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. The carrier must be leak-proof, well-ventilated, and spacious enough for the pet to stand, turn around, and lie down comfortably

+(+1)-(817)-761-[5466] Pets traveling in the cabin must remain inside the carrier for the entire duration of the flight, including boarding and taxiing +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Only one pet per carrier is generally allowed, and the carrier counts as the passenger's carry-on item +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Certain aircraft types and seat rows may restrict pet travel, so confirming eligibility before arriving at the airport is essential +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]

In addition to in-cabin travel, Southwest Airlines also provides limited options for pets traveling as checked baggage or cargo, depending on route and circumstances +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Fees for pets traveling outside the cabin can vary based on destination, pet size, and transport method, and may be significantly higher than in-cabin fees +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. For many domestic travelers, in-cabin pet travel remains the most affordable and convenient option available +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Service animals are not subject to pet fees, though documentation and advance notice requirements may apply +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Emotional support animals are no longer treated the same as service animals and typically fall under standard pet travel rules and fees

+(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Travelers should also factor in additional costs such as health certificates, vaccinations, and destination-specific pet requirements +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]

International travel with pets may involve extra paperwork and government approvals, which are separate from airline pet fees +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. It is recommended to arrive at the airport early when traveling with a pet to allow sufficient time for check-in and inspection

+(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Because pet policies and fees may change or vary by route, confirming details before booking can help avoid surprises on travel day

southwest Airlines does allow passengers to fly with pets, but only under specific rules and conditions designed to ensure the safety and comfort of both animals and travelers

+(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. The airline primarily permits small cats and dogs to travel in the aircraft cabin, provided they can fit comfortably inside an approved carrier that slides under the seat in front of the passenger +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Pets traveling in the cabin must remain inside the carrier for the entire duration of the flight, including boarding, taxiing, and landing +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. The carrier itself counts as the passenger's carry-on item, which means travelers must plan personal items accordingly +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466].

southwest Airlines limits the number of pets allowed in the cabin per flight, so availability is not guaranteed unless arrangements are made early +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Passengers must contact the airline in advance to add a pet to their reservation, as pets cannot simply be added at the airport without prior confirmation +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Certain aircraft types, seat locations, and routes may restrict pet travel, particularly on long-haul or international flights +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Pets must be at least eight weeks old and healthy enough to travel, and aggressive behavior may result in denial of boarding +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Service animals are permitted to fly with passengers without being confined to carriers, as long as required documentation and training criteria are met +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Emotional support animals are no longer treated as service animals and must follow standard pet travel rules if eligible +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]

In addition to in-cabin pet travel, southwest Airlines offers limited options for pets traveling as checked baggage or through specialized cargo services depending on destination and circumstances +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. This option is generally used for larger pets that cannot fit under the seat and requires additional preparation and documentation +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Traveling with pets may involve extra costs such as pet fees, veterinary health certificates, vaccination records, and destination-specific entry requirements +(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. International pet travel often requires advance government approval and may include quarantine rules, which are separate from airline policies

+(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Passengers are encouraged to arrive early at the airport when traveling with pets to allow sufficient time for check-in and inspection

+(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]. Temperature restrictions may apply for pets traveling outside the cabin to ensure animal safety during extreme weather conditions

+(+1)-(817)-761-[5466]
